

Computer Programmer

Norgen Biotek is a leading Canadian biotechnology company focusing on sample preparation for research and diagnostic applications. Established in the Niagara Region in 1998, Norgen manufactures and sells products world-wide, as well as provides R&D and diagnostic services to the scientific community. Norgen is a rapidly growing company, and is looking to immediately recruit an individual for a position in digital data management, IT and process integration as outlined below.

Job Location: Thorold, Ontario, Canada

Working Hours: Monday to Friday, 9:00 to 5:30

General Duties

- Design and development of new applications to improve workplace productivity
- Creation, development and maintenance of SQL databases (Postgres, MySQL)
- Improvement of existing ERP software with python
- Website development and improvement (through use of PHP, etc)
- Designing data mining and reporting functionality
- Computer hardware repair and sourcing
- Server maintenance and network administration
- Other duties and responsibilities as required

Qualifications

- A recent degree in computer sciences is required, Hon. BSc CompSci is preferable
- Experience with databases (SQL) and web development (php) and python and other languages is critical, and integration of digital management systems is also necessary
- Familiarity with ubuntu/linux, bash, network administration and development, and computer hardware is required
- Graphic design skills are an asset
- Hard working with a positive attitude
- Ability to work in a fast-paced environment is necessary
- Responsible, personable individual with the ability to work well with others
- The candidate must excel at problem-solving and get a kick out of "just making things work"
- Must be motivated, willing to learn and develop new skills
- Ability to multi-task
- Ability to meet deadlines
- Ability to perform multiple assignments without immediate supervision

Closing Date: Posted until filled